Facultyt Environment

Dear diary.

I, for one, welcome our new goose overlords. While held captive, I don't need to attend lectures, go to labs, submit assignments, or write quizzes. Alas, I know this can't last forever. I have a pilates class in a few days which I absolutely can't miss! I don't suppose they'd let me leave for a few hours if I promised to come back. Maybe if I offer to bring some stale bread with me? Just in case they say no, I better get back to studying for my physics midterm next week and thinking about how to eventually, maybe, perhaps get out of here.
