

Found Out Kitchener

Each phrase is a set of words that is opposite(somewhat) from a title or portion of a title of a work by a UWaterloo alumni. The authors first names can be used to help confirm the title. Searching the translated phrase in the UWaterloo library database provides call numbers. Placing the call numbers on the book spines gives another call number in the boxed spots. The UWaterloo library can be searched by call number. This leads to a work by another UWaterloo alumni, and the title fits in the blanks on the bottom. The boxed word is mall. The opposite of the title is Lost In Waterloo and the mall in Waterloo is Conestoga.

1. Civilized Walker (4,6) - Mark
2. Last Water (5,5) - David
3. Norm (7) - Anne
4. Purchasers Shallow Red Land (7,4,5,3) - William
5. Even's Start (4,3) - Tim
6. Indifference or Sleep (7,3,13) - Lisa
7. Twisted Inactivity (9,7) - Serge
8. Plant Enemies (6,11) - Anne
9. With an Evens Private Death (7,3,4,6,4) - Bruce
10. Infinity Against Disinformation (3,4,4) - Sandra
11. Perth(ish) I am Returning (7,3,3,7) - Gordon
12. Waste or Lemon (4,3,5) - Rupri
13. Science Sky (5,6) - Harold

1. Bush Runner
2. First Blood
3. Anomaly
4. Pirates Deep Green Sea
5. Odd's End
6. Emotion and Consciousness
7. Untwisted Journey
8. Animal Friendships
9. Against The Odds Public Life
10. One With News
11. Toronto You Are Leaving
12. Milk and Honey
13. Magic Ground

Authors Note: This is the first puzzle-hunt puzzle I ever wrote, and it was inspired by a love of books and numbers. The title of the book from the extracted call number came from typing frustrated comments into the library search bar. I was looking for inspiration and after finding none I started typing like "what is the point?", help me!", and other phrases before "where even am I?". I found this book, and when I realized the author was a UW alumni I knew what I wanted to do.

Where am I? Why We Can Find Our Way To The Moon But Get Lost In The Mall ← Here you are!