

M CLASSES WHERE WE SAW ALIENS

*I THINK THEY ARE CONTROLLING THE PROFESSORS' MINDS.
THEY MAKE THEM SAY THE DARNEDEST THINGS!*

Xenomorph's Paradox

ALIEN MIND CONTROL

The aliens seem to be able to control your mind if their name and your surname have the same first letter. Be careful out there. Who knows what they will make you do or say.

PRINCIPIA PANGALACTICA

The aliens abducted me! They showed me the latest xenomathematical result they proved. It's truly marvelous, but I cannot reproduce it here because the margins are too narrow. They named the result according to their initials. I was too bewildered to remember their names but I remember the author order... The author order was very important to them... They always put the most junior authors first. The order was:

BubbagumpTate

CHARACTERS' CHARACTERS

The aliens are stealing pen names! Just two letters each so far, but soon there may be nothing left. I think they are using them to compose their new master work... I was told that they can only steal letters in positions that match their respective resonance frequencies. Perhaps the most surprising part of this is that they use the same units we do to measure frequency; what an improbable coincidence. I also heard they only steal letters from their muses.

DANCE LIKE AN ALIEN

The aliens are preparing for an intergalactic dance battle. Each one vibes to their own rhythms yet they fit so well together. They each take a turn, from youngest to oldest, performing two signature moves. Instead of dancing to music, their dancing is the music! The tones were all really low, so I needed a special device to hear them, but in Hz they were 3, 4, 2, 4, 3, 4, 1, 5, 4, 7, 3, 7, 1, 8, 1, 4, 10, 11, 8, 28, 4, 5, 4, 8, 2, 5.
